RANGE OF EXPERIENCE For over a decade, Jonathan has provided real estate and other clients with accounting and tax services. A member of the LaPorte Real Estate Industry Group, he has worked with developers and investors, and he has worked with owners of multi-family housing projects, storage facilities, shopping centers, and office buildings.

Jonathan assists these clients in the areas of real estate accounting, taxation, and planning. He also has experience in transaction structuring; acquisition and disposition planning; and entity of choice, at-risk, and basis issues, along with other related support services for real estate clients. Additional experience includes operating agreement structuring and language; special tax allocations; capital gain strategies; 1031 exchanges; and other specialized areas of real estate taxation.

Jonathan began his professional career in 2005. Prior to joining LaPorte in 2015, he was a senior manager at a large national public accounting firm in Houston.
